How can months seem like minutes or even years? What a fine line there must be between knowing and not knowing.

NON PRO TEMPORE SED ALTERNITATE Too often we do not realize the importance of a place or time until it is gone . . .

. . in the quiet of the morning raised faces of evergreen blue in this gathering of mountains . . .

. . . chanting songs bolstered midnight
spirits . . . buckets of water, shaving cream oil, garbage, and other strange ingredients, waiting, . . .

lookouts on the alert, fruitlessly . . . snores fill the classes the next day . . . dark comes again with the waiting . . . green faced aliens sighted! whistles, sirens, soapy water everywhere — silence . . . confinement
there, damage here, truce and a dozen roses . . . come raid anytime VMI . . .

... so tired, can't concentrate on the lecture, eyes keep sliding shut, paper finished typed signed turned in-on time
... trudging up the hill listening to music escaping
somebody's window into the quiet night ...

. . . between yesterday and today the leaves somehow went from green to orange red, violet, yellow, rust . . .

and now they are no more . . .

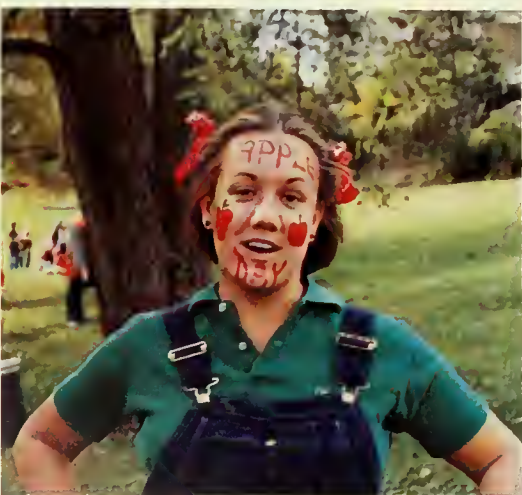

Apple Day Sponsor soph sell cider and caramel, candied apples and more apples. People get slimy hands from tossing eggs and apple craze spreads... sweet October apple tradition.

APPLE DAY

... wanting to go away for a weekend as far away as the moon-tests, paper, class class class-lecture. Trudge to dinner . . .
apple humans dodging tables hollering
freedom from tomorrow . . .

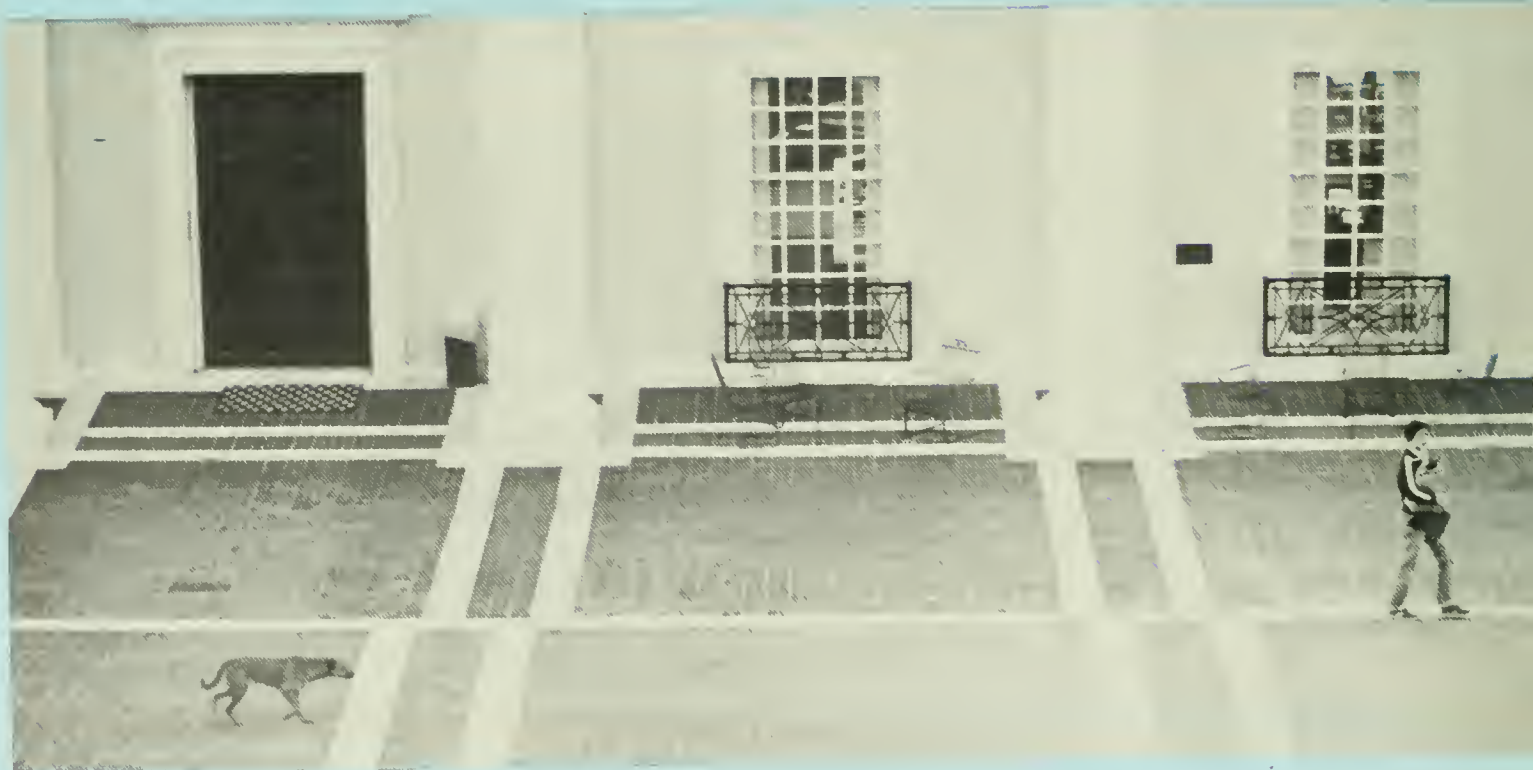

. . . picnic, appledom, bloody Mary's at Rose, 100 Seniors riding a pick up like a train, asking not to take away the music . . .

. . . deserted campus except for mass exodus from class or the trickle to. Weeks of wet like monsoons, cold, wet, cold . . . then sunshine, spring, spring, and people and more people on the hill greeting each other like strangers emerged from hibernation . . .

ANGELS

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

. . . often I have wondered If I am nothing but a transient
. . . from place to place . . . looking for solidity
somewhere . . . maybe it only comes in people for a time
. . . like those who remain when I must move on . . .

Educational Psychology

My nickname from college has been Poo. It's been a name I'll never forget. Many people consider me serious but others that know me better consider me witty. A lot of people at MBC will remember me by my artsy craftsy teaching materials such as the times when I put clear contact paper on all my pictures in the hall in Woodson at 2:00 in the morning. I always like to say that my goal in the future would be to make teacher of the year award. I've done many dumb but exciting things at MBC and loved everyone of them. My years at MBC have been "fantastic."

. . . I am physically and mentally incapable of studying, and at the moment I do not care . . . I never really thought it would get here . . . it was like a day in the far distant future, very hazy and very intangible. Now caps and gowns and orders for announcements and planning activities and it's all happening so fast . . .

JUNIORS — TAMMI O'DELL, RIKKI MOORE, KIM LAMBE, NANCY DANA

Dad bumping had to be the funniest thing I'd ever seen . . . it got kind of scary there around exams . . . never thought grades would come to mean so much and here I am studying my brains out . . . It's a nice and at the same time, a strange feeling knowing that I'll be on top next year . . . It was really weird seeing the soph's doing the show this year . . .

SOPHOMORE — SUSAN MARTIN, AUDREY ANDREWS, BONNIE BOURNE, MARY LYNN TUGGLE

If I see one more apple I'm going to scream! . . . Who spiked Gordon Page's cider??? How did we get through Sophomore show without flunking out of school? . . . Thank God I'm not a Freshman anymore! . . . what's this business about a Sophomore slump anyway??

FRESHMAN — SARAH BETH SNEAD, ANN POTTER, FRAN DIEFENDORF, LIZ WHITE

Orientation blues . . . scavenger hunts — getting lost in Academic had to be the worst! Buying bedspreads the same days as my first Frat party . . . Follies and the wonders of trying to get it done at the last minute . . . making flowers for Valentine's dance . . .

JUNIOR DAD'S . . .

He told me not to go
but that's like telling the
butler not to pool on a hot day,
My father's like that,
He sees his tomboy daughter
still in bluejeans
but not bringing home the boys
for lollipops and Koolade, Suddenly . . .
she's a beautiful young woman
as she receives her Junior Class ring . . .

. . . the hard part is being caught between two emotions . . . the challenge and excitement of finally getting out into the real world, and the fear that we're really not quite ready . . .

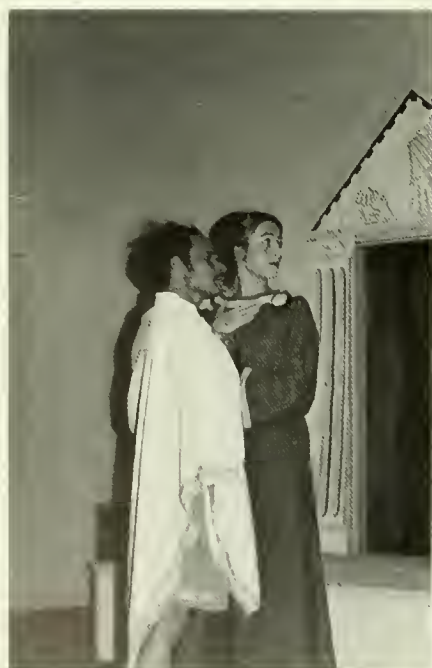

With the experience of learning at college, there is also the opportunity at Mary Baldwin to travel to one of the other colleges near-by to learn in a different atmosphere . . . some of those traveling to Lexington to Virginia Military Institute to a Manuscripts and Archives course, and those from Washington and Lee to Mary Baldwin to learn more through Sociology classes . . .

. . . Why did we come? How did we make it through each day, especially through those long nights . . .

. . . if someone were to walk up to you in the next five years and ask you what you most remember about college, what would your reply be? . . . there could be so many possible answers, that it would be impossible to capture them all on paper . . . but our guess is that most memories would be those of fun, happiness and friends . . .

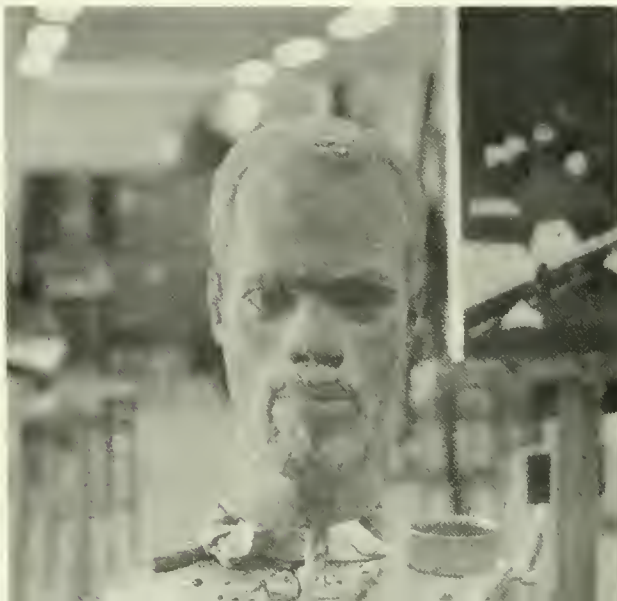

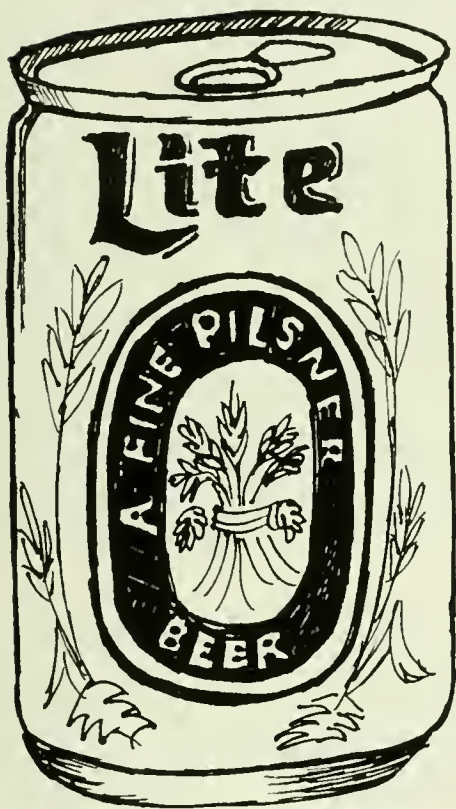

... "on the twelfth day of college my mother said to me . . ." or didn't say a lot of thing's which couldn't be said in words anyway, like sitting on the hill outside Hunt with somebody, not needing words, just thoughts . . .

Registration, classes, grain parties, convocations, Apply Day, Big Weekend, Investiture, exams, teas in Upper Back, "roap trips", or just having a great time in Staunton with friends, camping and partying with 23 hour parietals in South Bailey, VMI Raid, classes, finals — memories and friends . . . always friends and the thought of leaving them . . . Graduation . . . it's going to be hard to leave . . .

Sure, there'll be other parties, other water fights, other nights spent with popcorn, beer, and good friends, relaxing somewhere where you can all identify, but this special atmosphere will never be recaptured . . .

ADVERTISEMENTS

. . . without the support of merchants and stores in town, the yearbook would not be possible . . . our gratitude to those that helped support this years "Bluestocking" . . .

SPECIAL ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

to Dr. Pancake for being our Faculty Advisor and giving us much of his time and effort to Jim Ellis from Hunter Yearbook for his many ideas and contributions, and his enthusiasm . . . . we couldn't have done it without him to American Heritage Dictionary for their definitions

to Ed Thorsett for his photography

to Information Services for their photograph contributions to S. Bailey for putting up with all those phone calls day and night for the "Editor" . . . .

and most of all to my friends for understanding, caring, and putting up with my grouches about all the work . . . . it was worth it!

. . . and last of all, to my parents, for without them, this wouldn't have been possible.

Putting together a yearbook at first glance doesn't seem to be too hard, but as the yearbook plans begin to unfold, you realize that a good yearbook takes patience, time, contributions and lots of team work. Although we were lacking in participation, I feel that the 1978 "Bluestocking" is one that reflects the moods of the past year to be one that we will remember always.

Thanks much to all my staff members and editors who did give much of their time to this yearbook, for it wouldn't be possible without them. I hope that everyone will enjoy this book as much as I enjoyed seeing it materialize into a book of memories and one that I will cherish always.

Thanks for putting your faith and confidence in me as the Editor of this years "Bluestocking".

. . . thoughts I never knew existed . . .
caught in the web of not knowing how
. . . caught up in spite of myself . . .
curiosity itching like an unreachable
mosquito bite . . .
